PREMIER BRIAND ASSERTS FRANCE CANNOT DISARM, BUT PROMISES BIG REDUCTIONS IN ITS LAND FORCES

Army Will Be Cut In Half, He Says, In Making Speech At Arms Parley; Prussian Militarism Ready To Strike At Moment's Notice

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

International News Service Staff Correspondent
CONTINENTAL HALL, WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Rising to the full height of his fiery Latin eloquence, Premier Briand of France delivered an impassioned speech to the world today in justification for France's maintenance of a great standing army.

He passionately and eloquently pleaded with the powers that France could not disarm, asserting that on her doorstep sits the old Prussian militarism that attacked her in 1914, ready to strike again on a moment's notice.

France already, M. Briand said, has cut down her army to almost the lowest possible point consistent with national safety.

The French army, he said, has been cut down one-third already and would be still further reduced.

"Tomorrow," he said, "we will have cut down to one-half."

The premier pointed out that laws already were pending in the French Chamber of Deputies decreasing the period of compulsory military service from three years to one and one-half years.

The steps, Briand said, have already been taken by France, as an evidence of her willingness to do her utmost to realize the ideal of reduced armament.

No promises for the future other than those were made by the French premier, and he merely pointed to them as indicating France's desire to escape the accusation of being imperialistic in her military policy.

In a veritable torrent of words, accompanied by gestures, pleadings and supplicating, he asked the nations sitting about the great horse shoe table to put themselves in France's stead—surmounted by a menacing ring of foes, the greatest of whom are Germany and Russia.

"Would the world," he asked, almost tearfully, "demand that France disarm before a possible flood of anarchy and militarism pouring out of Russia and Germany?"

"What would you do?" he asked—then answered his own question by declaring: "You would say: We must have an army."

"You in America," he said, looking around at the galleries crowded with breathless people, "what would you do with this menace always at your door, always ready to fight you again? Would you turn away your

Get Your Name in
New City Directory
Now Being Prepared

The Western Directory company has started the canvass for the new 1922 issue of the Glendale City Directory. For the benefit of those interested, it is stated by representatives of this firm who are now in the city, that it is the intention of the company to have the book published and ready for delivery by the middle of January.

It is the request of the directory publishers that every courtesy be accorded their accredited representatives in order that this work may be facilitated. Unlike the census takers, directory canvassers ask no impertinent questions regarding age, etc., and provide the public only with that information the public gives them.

From a business standpoint it is good policy to have your name listed in an authorized directory if for nothing else than identification purposes, according to the directory men who wish to give Glendale a representative publication.

Dr. James Belyea
and Bride Locate
in Bungalow Here

Dr. James Belyea, formerly of Toledo, Ohio, and his bride who came west from Mackinaw, Michigan, to be married in Los Angeles, November 3, are now settled in the new garage-bungalow just completed for Mrs. Stella Goodman on her residence lot, 645 North Central avenue. Dr. Belyea and his father own a sanitarium at Toledo, and he is contemplating the establishment of one here in some part of the southwest, the location of which has not yet been decided upon. They have taken the bungalow for an indefinite period. The Belyeas are old time friends of Mrs. Goodman.

TURKEY NIGHT AT ELKS

A record attendance is expected at tonight's regular meeting of the Glendale Elks' lodge, which will be conducted in conjunction with the annual turkey contest. This is an event that is growing in popularity with the local members of the antlered herd, each year's event exceeding that of the former, both in size and interest stimulated among the members.

HAVE YOU RED CROSS BOOK

Those who have membership books for the Red Cross will please send them in to Mrs. C. L. Peckham at the Brand Boulevard Branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank by Tuesday or Wednesday according to an announcement this morning.

FIRST BIRTHDAY OF CHORAL SOCIETY IS OBSERVED

Large Cake Is Cut in Honor of Anniversary; Program Is Thoroughly Enjoyed

The Seventh-day Adventist Choral society celebrated its first birthday anniversary Saturday night, the place of meeting being the fine assembly room at Dr. H. R. Harrower's new business building on East Broadway.

In the kitchen and dining room adjoining the assembly room, the hosts for the evening, Mrs. C. H. Jones, with her assistants, made various magic passes with spoon and dish while the guests enjoyed a social exchange. Before the program was given, refreshments of sandwiches and cocoa were served. Then in came the birthday cake of more than usual size, with one pink candle standing proudly in the center.

Mrs. C. A. Brandstater and Mrs. Jones presided at the "carving" to the accompaniment of witty remarks by Dr. Harrower. His generous invitation to the society to make his assembly hall the regular place of meeting each month met with unanimous approval. Others who responded to calls for "speech" were C. H. Jones, choir leader; Elders E. L. Neff, R. W. Munson and I. A. Ford.

To Nominate Officers

The business of the meeting was now considered and disposed of one item being the appointing of a committee to nominate officers for the coming six months. The society has been supplying funds to the near east relief work to the amount of $5 a month.

The entertainers for the evening furnished a select program, the numbers of which were:

Selection—Glendale Sanitarium orchestra.

Violin Solo—Mrs. C. E. Swarts-fager, Mrs. A. Belle Johnson, pianist.

Vocal Duet—J. Elwood Moore, Miss Adams.

Piano Solos—Miss Green.

Musical Exercise—Mrs. Westphal.

In carrying out the latter number, long strips of paper with the staff thereon was pinned to the wall. Each guest was given a card on which was a note, the number of the measure and the position and order of the note being stated.

As the guest pinned his note on the staff, he was told to sing it. All notes in position brought out the refrain, "Should Old Acquaintance Be Forgotten."

An enjoyable time was spent by the sixty-five or more guests present.

Intermediate Class
Mothers in Meeting;
School Work Topic

Friday afternoon Mrs. Tepe, class mother of the B.Y.B.'s, assisted by Mrs. Vogel, Mrs. Blumfield and Mrs. Peterson, entertained the mothers of the boys and girls of that class, from 2 to 4 o'clock in the domestic science room of the Intermediate school.

Mr. Alvas, the class teacher, was the guest of honor. Superintendent Richardson D. White, Miss Noble, Miss Midcalf, Miss Tyler and Miss Sharpe also joined the party taking an interest in their animated discussions on membership, the good of the school, clean newspapers, the value of the Parent-Teacher association to fathers, and the value also of fathers to the association.

Plans for fathers' night, which comes next Monday, and National Education week, which comes the first week in December, were gone over.

Quite a number of new members were obtained and the indications are that Miss Sinclair's room (the B.Y.B.'s) will have to go some if they retain their flag by showing the largest percentage of increase in the number of fathers who are members of the Intermediate Parent-Teacher association. The hostesses served delicious home made cake and coffee.

Those present were Mrs. Addison, Mrs. Begg, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Hone, Mrs. Young, Mrs. McClelland, Mrs. Kulp, Miss Noble, Miss Midcalf, Miss Sharpe, Miss Tyler, Mr. White and Mr. Alvas, and the hostesses, Mrs. Tepe, Mrs. Blumfield, Mrs. Vogel and Mrs. Peterson.

Mabel Reiterman
and H. W. Frank to Marry in December

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Reiterman's home at 216 North Coronado street Saturday night was the scene of a pretty shower in honor of their daughter, Miss Mabel Reiterman, director of music in Hollywood high school, whose marriage early in December to Harrison W. Frank of the Local View company, Glendale, was announced.

Mrs. Harriet F. Frank, mother of the latter, has presented her son with a home on Benton way, it also was announced.

WILLIAM VIOHL IS BETTER

William Viohl of 358 West Lomita avenue, who has been confined to his home with an attack of rheumatism for the past week, is able to be out again, although he is still unable to return to his place of business.

Today's World News In Brief

(By International News Service to Glendale Evening News)

FEDERAL GRAND JURY TO HEAR ROY GARDNER'S CASE
PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 21.—United States Marshal Dillon announced today that the federal grand jury has been ordered by Judge Sawtelle to reconvene here next Wednesday morning to take action on charges against Roy Gardner, mail bandit, in connection with his attempt last week to rob a Santa Fe mail car.

BRENTANO MAY BE CHOSEN AUSTRIA AMBASSADOR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—President Harding has under consideration and probably will appoint Judge Theodore Brentano, of the superior court of Chicago, to the post of ambassador to Austria, it was learned today from sources high in the administration. The appointment would be a recognition of demands from the middle west for a high diplomatic post.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER LOSES CASE IN U. S. COURT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—John D. Rockefeller and Mrs. Edith Hale Harkness, who resisted payment of the income tax on common stock distributions in oil pipe company reorganizations, lost their appeals to the supreme court of the United States. Associate Justice Pitney today announced the affirmation of lower court decree sustaining the levy of the taxes.

FREIGHT RATES REDUCTION ORDERED BY COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The interstate commerce commission today ordered that the reductions in freight rates on grain, grain products and hay in carloads, previously announced, become effective on December 27, 1921. The reductions apply between points in the mountain-Pacific groups and between points in the western and points in the northern Pacific groups.

BANDITS HOLD UP JEWELRY STORE AND GET $50,000 LOOT

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Three bandits held up the jewelry store of Henry Stern in West Madison street shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, and, according to a report to the police, escaped with $50,000 in gems. The bandits, all armed, compelled Stern and two employees to enter a rear room while they rifled the store. Many persons were passing in the busy street while the robbery was taking place.

FATE OF BEER AS MEDICINE NOW RESTS WITH HARDING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The fate of beer as a medicine today was an issue facing the president for decision. The Willis-Campbell bill, which passed the senate Friday, will be subjected to an analysis by the department of justice, probably before the president decides whether or not he will sign the measure. Brewers and distillers have served notice that they will attack the constitutionality of the bill.

SAYS ANGLO-JAPANESE ALLIANCE JAPAN'S BEST WEAPON

SHANGHAI, Nov. 21.—Lord Northcliffe, famous British publisher, on his arrival here today from a tour of Japan, charged in an exclusive statement to the International News Service that the Anglo-Japanese alliance is the sharpest sword in the hands of the war party of Japan and is responsible for Japan's past arrogant attitude toward the United States. "Kill the alliance and you will rob them of half their power," he declared.

SURPRISE WITNESS IN ROSCOE ARBUCKLE TRIAL TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—With the opening of the second week of the manslaughter trial of Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle, the state sprang a surprise witness in the person of Dr. H. Edward Castle, who hitherto had not figured in the case. Dr. Castle testified he had been called to the bedside of Virginia Rappe, with whose death Arbuckle is charged with responsibility, by Sidi Wirt Spreckles. He arrived, he said, one minute after the film actress passed away. He testified that he noticed a bruise on her right arm. The defense asked him no questions. Dr. Francis Wakefield, proprietor of the sanitarium at which Miss Rappe died, was the second witness. The sanitarium head told of the autopsy conducted after the death of the girl by Dr. William Ophuls at which he was present.

POSITIVE THAT GERMANY CAN MEET ITS OBLIGATIONS

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—The majority of the members of the allied reparations commission who came here to study financial conditions to determine Germany's ability to meet the January and February indemnity installments, had left here today convinced these payments could be met. In official circles it was stated that, despite the commission's finding, the January and February payments would not be forthcoming under present economic conditions. It was declared the solution of the problem will depend largely upon the results of the visit to London of Hugo Stinnes, German financial leader. Stinnes probably will stay in the English town where he owns a hotel, awaiting an invitation to confer with Premier Lloyd George, according to those close to the German financier. The conference probably will take place at the country seat of the British premier, it was stated.

STORMS RAGING IN MIDDLE WEST AND IN NORTHWEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Reports reaching the weather bureau here today indicate that the entire middle and northwest is in the grips of King Winter. Snow and rain turning to sleet is falling over practically all of Oregon and Washington, disrupting wire service, stalling trains and hampered electric cars and vehicular traffic. Something over four inches of snowfall was reported from Seattle and more than two inches of rain or snow in Portland. The rainfall continued south into northern California, Eureka reporting a rainfall of 1.4 inches. Storm warnings were ordered displayed today on the Pacific coast from Cape Mendocino north. Havre, Montana, boasted of the coldest weather in the country with a temperature of 24 degrees below zero. North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Minnesota and Canada all reported temperatures of below zero according to the weather bureau advices. "A storm of marked intensity is now centered in Wyoming, causing considerable snowfall in the northern portion of that state," said an announcement. "Snow has fallen in other northwestern states as far east as the upper Mississippi." Cattlemen here expressed grave fears for the range herds and flocks of the northwest on account of the reported heavy snowfall and the severity of the cold wave so early in the season. At 8:30 o'clock the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company announced that Portland was completely isolated from the rest of the world by wire failures due to the storm.

BUILDING PERMITS FOR MONTH OF NOVEMBER APPROACHING HALF MILLION MARK; TOTAL $349,555

Amount For Year To Date Is $4,486,325; Number Of Comparatively Large Structures Are Being Planned; Many New Homes Are Under Way

GLENDALE building permits for the month of November are rapidly approaching the half million mark, the total at noon today being $349,555, which makes a total for the year of $4,486,325. That the half million mark would be passed within the next few days was expressed today by Building Inspector F. H. Marek who said: "I think the permits will total a half million within a day or two for the month of November. There seems to be no let up to it, and several large business buildings are being planned which may come under the list this month."

The list includes several beautiful homes for Glendale, costing from $5,000 to $6,000. The following permits were issued up to noon today:

Mrs. L. Richardson
Hostess to White
Ribbons Friday

It was a large and enthusiastic company of White Ribboners who met at the home of Mrs. Lucius Richardson, 1856 South Brand boulevard, Friday afternoon. While it was a regular meeting, Mrs. O. S. Palmer conducted a Thanksgiving service by giving personal Thanksgiving testimony and plans were made to visit the Southern California Home of the W. C. T. U. prior to Turkey day. Such provender as canned fruit, preserves, vegetables, clothing, etc., will be very acceptable to the venerable members who are resident there, it is said.

The home is located in Avenue 57 at Highland Park and all of those planning to make donations should inform Mrs. Palmer.

It was reported that a petition bearing more than 200 signatures had been forwarded to Secretary of State Hughes urging the limitation of armaments. A resolution was passed asking President Harding to dismiss Secretary Mellon of the Treasury department for allowing beer and light wines to be sold under former Attorney-General Palmer's ruling.

Among other interesting events on the program was the duet, "Master, Pilot of the Sea," sung by Mrs. Richardson and her daughter, while Mrs. P. S. McNutt gave an interesting address on parliamentary practice. The session adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. Eva Waller, 343 West Broadway, on the afternoon of December 2.

DUCK HUNTING IS GOOD

Otis E. Goodman of 645 North Central avenue, with a party comprised of A. B. Sparks of Sparks garage, 1328 North Main street, Los Angeles, Albert Styr and C. C. Colines of the Fruit Exchange and two other friends went to Big Bear Friday morning, returning Sunday night. They found the duck hunting unusually good, and succeeded in bagging an average of fifteen fine birds each, most of which were Mallards. They have placed them in cold storage until Thanksgiving.

FURTHER PLANS OF EDUCATION WEEK WILL BE MADE

Girl Scouts, Troop
No. 1, Meets; More
Members Received

The Glendale Girl Scouts, Troop One, spent a most enjoyable day Saturday at the beautiful foothill home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dana, 1318 North Louise street.

The spacious rooms formed a lovely setting for the scout ceremony and initiations. Marjorie Hart, Marie Grey and Florence McLaughlin, who have completed their Tenderfoot tests, were the victims of an amusing mock initiation, which was carried out in a very clever manner under the direction of Margaret Longley, Beryl Goodale and Carolyn Ayers. The new candidates were "game" and faced the firing squad without flinching.

This was followed immediately by the formal investiture, at which ceremony the three candidates took the scout oath and received their Tenderfoot pins. A delicious luncheon which had been prepared by a committee of three, Ruth Dana, Alice Carpenter, and Lina Borthick, was served at 1 o'clock.

The afternoon hours were spent in piecing quilts, which will be donated for some charitable purpose at Christmas time.

Chief of Police A. O.
Martin Is 'Arrested'
on Business Street

Chief of Police Allen O. Martin's "liver" evidently is used to a faster pace than that set by the austere official today noon while proceeding east on Broadway across Brand boulevard.

In fact, the chief had hardly started across the intersection in his little Lizzie when the right rear wheel spun ahead of the machine, permitting traffic to be temporarily deranged while he gathered up the pieces.

"Why do wheels wander when they have no place to go," Mr. Martin likely wonders. An axle ought not break when one is going so slow.

SHIP IS FOR MISSIONARIES

LONDON—A new departure in mission work has been made by the Salvation Army, which has chartered the Wilson liner Calypso as a missionary transport to convey a contingent of missionaries and their families to India and Ceylon.

SAYS FRANCE WILL REDUCE ITS ARMY JUST ONE-HALF

Remarkable Address Is Made by Premier Briand at Armament Parley

eyes and lose your life; and what is more precious, your honor?"

"No," he shouted.
The eloquent French Premier did not bring to the conference any program for limitation of land armaments. He made no suggestion as to how the crushing burden of taxation, under which his country and the other states of Continental Europe are staggering, can be lifted.

He contented himself merely with pleading his country's justification in face of increasing menace, and so passionately and eloquently did he perform the task, that before he was through, women in the galleries were moved to tears.

He painted a vivid picture of German militarism being not dead, but merely lying dormant ready to strike at France again when the moment arrives, just as it did in 1914.

Behind this menace, he pointed to Russia, with anarchy and armed men. The combination of the two, he warned, was not an idle dream. It was a hard, cold possibility, and it had to be faced, he asserted. Russia, he said, has armed forces of 20,000,000 men, Germany some 7,000,000.

Would the world, he asked, have France disarm before this terrible menace? Would the nations sitting around the table agree to disarm if they were situated as France is? Would it be fair to France herself or to the world if they did so? He thought not.

The premier spoke for nearly an hour. He spoke so fast that even the fluent French speakers in the other delegations were able to follow him only with difficulty. At times he stopped in order to allow a translation of his remarks to be read. When he finished his exhortation, he was almost exhausted and he sank in his seat amid the plaudits of the throng.

Third Open Session
CONTINENTAL HALL, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—The third open session of the armament conference, convened at 11:02 o'clock today in an atmosphere of pleasant anticipation, not unlike that which overhangs the premiere of a well advertised show.

The spectators were early on the scene, keenly expectant of hearing France's greatest orator, Premier Briand, plead her cause before the world in this high court of decreased armament.

Women predominated in the galleries, supplanting the senators, cabinet officers and other dignitaries who were so prominent at the previous sessions.

The frock coats and high hats gave way to brilliant gowns and the latest in Parisian headgear.

There was not the air of tenseness over today's meeting that had characterized the others. No sudden dramatic announcements or startling coups such as attended the opening session were in prospect.

Delegates Are Late
As if conscious that today's was more of a "show" than a grave, history-making session, the chief actors took their time in appearing. Not until the hands of the big clock facing the horseshoe table pointed to almost 11 o'clock did the principal delegates appear. Not so the spectators.

The limited space was beginning to fill at 10 o'clock and outside there was jammed a great crowd of people to see the big ones enter. For the first time today both movies and still pictures were taken of the conference at work. When Secretary Hughes' gavel fell at 11:02 o'clock the delegates were seated on the green table and the operators turned busily. The center of the room was bathed in a dazzling white light that hurt the eyes.

When the lights were switched off Secretary Hughes again wielded his gavel.

"Whatever the result of the conference may be," he said, "it is obvious that there can be no limitation of photography."

Secretary Hughes said that "gratifying progress" is being made in the adjustment of conflicting views on the naval program, and in the Far East discussions.

"While there is nothing definite yet," he announced, "our expectations have been surpassed in point of thoroughness and dispatch."

About Land Forces
Land armament is now under consideration, said the secretary of state and there was a general craning of necks in Briand's direction.

"So far as the army of the United States is concerned, there is no question," Hughes said. "It has always been the policy of the United States to have the smallest army possible."

During the war, he said, the United States had upwards of 4,000,000 men. Now our army numbers less than 150,000 men.

"We fully recognize the difficulties which exist abroad, however," Hughes said. "It is regarded as fitting there should be the freest possible exchange of views by the delegates at this time."

Then Hughes turned to Briand and the show was on. The secretary explained that Briand would pause at intervals to allow the interpreter to translate his remarks into English.

Great applause greeted the premier as he arose. He seemed a bit nervous.

The fiery premier took a leaf from the book of Balfour and asked his hearers to put themselves in France's place. American borders, he pointed out, are safe, impregnable from all attack from without. America, he said, has no powerful, tricky neighbor.

AMERICA WILL STICK TO TIGHT ON PROGRAM AS FIRST MADE

Hughes Naval Plans Will Be Carried Out, Not Picked to Pieces, Is Belief

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
Written for International News Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Having made it painfully apparent that the United States will not back up in any degree from the naval program, American officials were waiting to see what effect the plain warning will have on the other powers.

Officials of this government are frankly hopeful that the clear statement of America's position will have a beneficial effect on the conference as a whole and the naval negotiations in particular.

Japan wanted her ratio increased from 60 to 70 per cent of the strength of Great Britain and the United States. Great Britain wanted the complete abolition of big submarines and not many of the smaller ones left.

The statement that America is not disposed to sit quietly by and see the program, prepared with such care and at such a cost to the United States, "picked to pieces" came as a timely warning against the bickering and quibbling that has been going on since the other nations announced their "acceptances" of the plan laid down.

Program Declared Fair

Bluntly put, the American position is that Secretary Hughes has laid down a program eminently fair to all concerned, and one that is particularly liberal where Japan is concerned, and that, having laid it before the conference, the other nations can either accept it or they can reject it. There the American case is rested.

The crux of the whole matter, according to America's naval experts, is the Japanese insistence upon a 10-10-7 ratio with the United States and Great Britain and British insistence upon British opposition to submarines is based upon moral grounds; British spokesmen have decided they should be outlawed because they are "dirty" weapons that can too easily be put to attack on the defenseless merchant ships of the high seas.

To this argument, the American spokesmen have replied that submarines are legitimate weapons to the legitimately inclined. They have also pointed out that the British position is inconsistent for, while raising objections to submarines on moral grounds, the British have not raised any such objections to the use of aircraft, which also is capable of "dirty" work over unfortified cities.

Frequent Consultations
The British have carefully refrained from indicating their attitude toward Japan's claims for a greater capital ship ratio, and the Japanese, with equal care have refrained from indicating their attitude on the submarine question raised by Britain.

There have been, however, frequent consultations between British and Japanese experts, while there have been no tangible evidences of "teamwork" between them, the statement of the American position against both propositions was timed with care.

It is not Japan's intention, Prince Tokugawa said, to submit a far east "program" to the conference. Japan is willing that the discussion should hinge about the questions raised by China herself at the opening of the conference.

bors to constantly menace her peace and security.

Briand spoke with impassioned earnestness, hammering home his points with vigorous gestures. There were frequent bursts of applause when he voiced France's determination not to allow Germany to repeat her villainy of 1914.

It is a mistaken belief, Briand asserted, that Germany has no materials of war. The French, he said, had made a survey and found there was plenty of materials.

Briand paid a compliment to Chancellor Wirth, the present head of the German government. He characterized him as a sincere man who wants to fulfill the promises already made, but German government is a feeble one and constantly menaced by militaristic and royalist plots.

Germany, he pointed out, is a huge industrial plant with every factory pointed toward the policy of being converted to war purposes.

Not only are these industries going full blast in Germany, he said, but German financiers own them in other countries.

"Guns are being made," he declared, "and who can restrain them or survey them? Prussia become peaceful? We have bled for thinking that before."

Fears of New War
Since peace was made in France had not been watchful. Europe would already have been plunged in war, he said. Russia can raise 20,000,000 to cross Poland and join Germany. Germany has beckoned to her to come, he charged.

"Can you picture the anguish of France at the picture of armies of anarchy coming to our door to slaughter her?" he asked. "Can you blame France for becoming the policeman of Europe?"

Briand drew a gloomy picture of the policy of a coalition of Germany and Russia combining. He said that with an army at his back, he had taken the responsibility of saying to Germany that if she did not keep her promises, if she crossed the line, he would strike.

Without an army at his back, he could not have done this. France's debt of gratitude to the world, he said, was eternal.

WORLD CONFERENCE ON FINANCES IS BEING URGED

Success of Meeting Depends Upon America's Willingness to Act; France Leads

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
Written for International News Service
Copyright, 1921, International News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—The United States has been approached by certain European nations as to its willingness to engage in a world-wide economic and financial conference to follow the present conference on limitation of armaments and far eastern questions.

No definite invitation has been thus far extended, but the administration is being "sounded out" as to its attitude toward such a meeting, to be held either in Washington, London or Paris. It is with such a gathering in prospect that the foreign diplomats now here have carefully refrained from mentioning the subject of foreign indebtedness at the present conference.

The conference proposed by the European statesmen would include not only the nations that are participating in the armament conference, but also Germany, the smaller states of central and eastern Europe and possibly Russia. In a word, it is a world economic conference that is being quietly suggested here in Washington while the work of cutting navies and ironing out Pacific and far east disputes is in progress.

Depends Upon America

The success of the project is contingent upon America's willingness to participate, administration officials have been informed. Being possessed of two-thirds of the world's total available supply of gold, being the richest nation in resources in the world, and being the greatest creditor nation in the world, the attendance of the United States is absolutely essential. Without American participation, the undertaking would be a futile meeting of impoverished debtors.

The prime mover in projecting the conference idea is France, which can not hope for a material betterment of her financial and economic condition to come out of the present armament conference. She has no great naval program to be scrapped, and her spokesmen on Monday will declare that France cannot with safety decrease her military expenditures.

According to the tentative program outlined to American officials, the proposed financial congress will deal with:

One—International indebtedness. (European nations owe the United States approximately $11,000,000,000.)

Two—Stabilization of exchange rates.

Three—German reparations.

Four—The enormous sums which the old czarist government owed the world, principally France and Great Britain.

Five—Stabilization and betterment of the world credit system.

Under these five headings could be grouped all the financial and economic ills the world is heir to.

France wants some assurances that the German reparations payments, one of which is now due and default, will be kept up.

France also wants to realize something out of the millions which she poured into the old Russian government. French spokesmen point out that France is also a great creditor nation, and could she but realize on her investments she would be in a position to discharge her obligations to Great Britain and the United States.

Great Britain is in much the same position. France and Italy are heavy in her debt—more in amount than Great Britain owes the United States.

Thus far the projectors of the plan have been unable to get definite assurances of American participation. Administration spokesmen have replied informally that one step on the fire at a time is enough and that until the present conference takes some definite form of accomplishment, the administration does not care to put on another.

Owed To United States

The sums which foreign nations owe the United States, with accumulated interest are, in round figures:

Great Britain, $4,500,000,000
France, $3,500,000,000
Italy, $2,250,000,000
Belgium, $500,000,000
Germany, $275,000,000
Russia, $250,000,000
Rumania, $35,000,000
Serbia (Jugo Slavia), $30,000,000
Greece, $25,000,000
Czechoslovakia, $75,000,000

There are other smaller amounts of less consequence owed by little nations.

NEBRASKA FAMILY ARRIVE

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hattercheid of Cedar Bluff, Neb., have purchased from Claude Harness through the real estate firm of Mrs. M. L. Tight, 612 East Broadway, the property at 432 North Glendale avenue, and now have installed their furniture which arrived the day after the purchase was made. The new residents are enthused over Glendale for its climate and scenery. Mrs. Hattercheid is a sister of Mrs. Herman Nelson, 641 East Harvard street.

MRS. C. P. BRICE AT HOME

Mrs. C. P. Brice of 304 North Kenwood street returned to Glendale Saturday from a week's visit at Downey, where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Christy. Mrs. Christy, who is the daughter of Mrs. Brice, accompanied her mother to this city, where she plans to spend the Thanksgiving holidays.

REAL WORKOUTS FOR BASKETBALL TEAM NOW STARTED

Plenty of Material at Local High School to Produce Championship Five

By HOWARD M'GILLIS
Sporting Editor The Evening News

Following several weeks of "impromptu and unofficial" practicing after school hours the basketball aspirants at the local high school will have a chance to exhibit their ability in the casaba tossing pastime this afternoon, when real workouts will be inaugurated. From casual glimpses of the material that has already been evidenced on the waxed floor the five candidates who succeed in landing permanent berths on the first team will have to show an exceptional amount of class.

Although no definite announcement has yet been made regarding the coach of the squad it is generally understood that Howard Butterfield, who is the man that's largely responsible for putting the Midget football team in the southern California championship playoffs, will have charge of the casaba chasing fusiliers. He is well fitted to fill the bill, as basketball was his principal sport in his high school and college athletic career. He was captain and star forward of last season's University of Southern California quintet.

Some Veterans Appear

The veterans from last year's team who will be counted on to form the nucleus for this season's pennant contender are Victor Colburn and Bill Goertz, forwards, and Wilfred Cline, guard. With a full season's experience playing together the two former named casaba tossers should leave nothing wanting in the matter of scoring ability for this year's Black and Red representatives. Together they are the smoothest running combination that has performed for the local institution since 1918, when "Russ" Tummell and "Preacher" Farnes led Glendale to the southern California championship. Cline, who was one of the most dependable guards in the Central league last year, gives promise of being even better during the 1921-1922 season, and with another equally capable goal defender paired with him, Coach Butterfield "should worry."

Follows His Brother

Neal McIver, brother of the famous "Wad and Tom" combination who played guards on the team for three successive years, is one of the most likely candidates for the quintet, his performances in practice showing that he will probably follow in the footsteps of his brothers. Bob McCourt, star fullback of the football team, "Rings" Ringstadt, and many others have signified their intentions of "going out" to make the squad.

In view of the fact that lightweight teams of both basketball and football have made such creditable showing the past two years a considerable amount of stress has been put on the development of the Midget aggregations, with the result that 150 pound athletes have become a fixture at Glendale high school. More interest has been stimulated regarding the coming lightweight basketball team than that of the heavyweights, if the number of candidates out for the team has anything to do with it.

Following are several of those who have already been conditioning themselves in order to secure a place on the Midget quintet: "Pete" Fruhling, Albert "Doc" Bryant, George Jansen, Bob Roach, Dave Griffiths, Howard Wimmer, Tom Morgan and Ted Haig.

TOM MOORE PICTURE IS FEATURED ON GLENDALE BILL

Story by Rupert Hughes Is Well Screened and Is Being Shown Today

The organ recital by Paul Carson and the return engagement of Harold Stanton, dramatic tenor, and Miss Maud Norman Reilly, contralto, at the Glendale theatre last night, proved a program of much merit. The three organ numbers by Mr. Carson were heartily enjoyed and the concert by Mr. Stanton and Miss Reilly was given much applause.

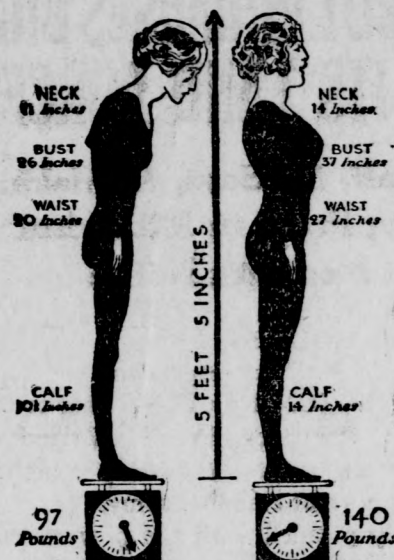

Tom Moore, in the new Goldwyn picture, "From the Ground Up," by Rupert Hughes, which is being shown again today at the Glendale theatre, begins his rise in the world with a sure recipe for happiness—a song and a harmonica. Through these he encounters the inevitable one and only girl who unknowingly spurs him on to greater things.

This idea of Rupert Hughes' has been entertainingly worked out in a story that fits Mr. Moore's personality closely. His happy nature, his smile, his ability to depict pathos with such sincerity that it grips, all lend themselves to make his new photoplay an excellent vehicle for his screen talents.

"From the Ground Up" was directed by E. Mason Hooper, and the leading feminine role was played by Helene Chadwick. All the members of an excellent supporting cast give performances that will add to their reputation among film audiences.

JAPANESE ATTEMPT TO BARGAIN, SAY NAVAL EXPERTS

Japan's Sacrifice of Vessels Not as Great as America and England, Claimed

By HARRY L. ROGERS
Written for International News Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—The first deep note of pessimism crept into the armament conference as delegates and naval experts got down to the business of ascertaining the exact significance of Japan's objections to the Hughes proposal for the limitation of naval armament.

"An attempt to bargain" is the way many American naval experts characterized the Japanese proposal for increased general tonnage of the figure set by the Hughes plan for equality with Great Britain and the United States in certain forms of auxiliary tonnage of "strictly defensive character."

There were suggestions that these proposals might be used as a lever in future negotiations in the field of Far Eastern questions.

A canvass of sentiment among American naval men revealed almost solid opposition to the proposal of Japan that she be allowed more than the 60 per cent ratio set forth in the Hughes program. The Hughes figure represented the maximum which American naval opinion considered should be allotted to the Japanese navy.

Japan Gets Best of It
The sacrifice Japan is called on to make under the Hughes plan is by far the least of the three nations involved, it was pointed out, being 448,928 tons in scrapped capital ships, as compared with 583,375 tons for Great Britain and 845,740 for the United States.

As for the general ratio of 3 to 5 established under the American proposal for the Japanese and American navies, respectively, naval experts assert that this is a distinct concession on the part of the United States from the old doctrine that the geographical location of the Philippines, should be twice the size of the Japanese.

Though the exact ratio now sought by Japan was not made public, it was understood that Baron Kato would stand out for a navy 70 per cent as strong as Great Britain or the United States with respect to capital ships and approximately equal in certain auxiliary craft, probably light cruisers.

Some Talk of Compromise
Despite general opposition of naval experts, many of whom are inclined from the first to regard the American proposal as too liberal toward Japan, there is some talk of a possible compromise on the Japanese suggestions. The two conciliatory propositions most prominently advanced provide for:

First—Splitting the difference between figures set by the Hughes plan and those suggested by Japan, provided the latter call for an increase of not more than 10 per cent.

Second—Allowing the tonnage as asked for, but limiting such increase to the period of the ten-year naval holiday.

The question of submarines continued today to occupy the attention of the experts. American naval strategists are almost without exception solidly against the British proposal that the submarine tonnage allotted in the Hughes program be cut in half and the bigger undersea boats be done away with altogether.

In this connection it was learned today that some of the smaller nations attending the conference have already assured the United States of their support in refusing to accept the British proposition.

Support for Submarines

The American delegates were informed that smaller countries with coast lines to protect, regarded the submarine as an essential weapon of defense. This is especially true of those smaller maritime nations like Holland and Belgium, which are unable to afford large and expensive naval fighting craft, and which find the submarine a cheaper and equally effective method of defending their ports and coasts from attacks.

The American delegates themselves are firm in their opposition to the suggestion first broached by Arthur James Balfour, as acting head of the British delegation to the conference, that the submarine be virtually done away with. It was predicted that the British will find themselves alone at the conference if they persist in urging that the submersible war craft be eliminated almost entirely from naval armament.

JOIN RED CROSS! IS PLEA TO PEOPLE BY CARDINALS

Prominent Catholics Declare Organization Should Have Full Support of All

"I deem it a duty to exhort all our citizens to enroll themselves in this admirable organization which for many years past, and especially during the world war, has rendered to mankind such noble services," said Cardinal Dougherty, archbishop of Philadelphia, in a recent communication to the Red Cross. "In times of peace it has come to the rescue of the victims of pestilence, famine, fire, floods and other great calamities; in war it has cared for the sick and wounded throughout the world irrespective of race and creed."

Cardinal O'Connell of Boston writes as follows:

"The American Red Cross is an organization of which our country is justly proud. It is dedicated to a noble purpose—the alleviation of suffering mankind. The story of its achievements speak for itself."

Needs Encouragement
"In order that this organization may continue faithful service and bring assistance to suffering humanity, it needs constant encouragement and support. It has ever been the just and proud boast of America that she has never been wanting in generosity in any need. I am confident that American citizens will not fail to respond as they have in the past to help the Red Cross to continue its ministrations to the unfortunate and suffering."

Mrs. Eugene Brown Gets Letter From Mrs. Jesse Joseph

Mrs. Eugene Brown of 321 South Lincoln avenue has received a most interesting letter from Mrs. Jesse Joseph of West Lexington Drive, who with Mr. Joseph left Glendale two months ago on a tour of Europe. The letter was written from London. Mrs. Joseph stated that she had been lavishly entertained by Mr. Joseph's two sisters who reside in England and that she was having a most interesting time.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph were planning to leave London for Paris. Although they stated they hoped to be home by Christmas they were not sure that they would be able to.

In the Referee's Corner
by Jack Veiock
International News Sporting Editor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Does football require more brains, nerve and skill than baseball? If so, why?

Here's novel question. It was put to the writer by W. M. Martin, Jr., of the Meridian (Miss.) Star, with the notation that it has caused a lot of discussion among Meridian sport followers.

Few questions are more difficult to weigh than those relating to the merits of any two of the so-called major sports, yet every red-blooded sport has several things in common with the others. Baseball and football both require:

First—A quick brain.

Second—Physical and mechanical ability.

Third—Fighting spirit, or the "will to win."

Football and baseball, however, are as far apart as boxing and golf or rowing and tennis, and an attempt to compare them fairly would be futile.

It is the opinion of the writer that football requires more actual nerve, or "guts," as it is known in sporting parlance, but this is where the comparison ends in its favor.

Baseball, in our opinion, demands a consistently keener brain and a finer brand of skill than does the gridiron game. Technically, baseball is the more difficult game.

This is said with due respect for the great gridiron game, which is beyond a doubt the most red-blooded of major sports. It is just humble opinion from one who has followed both sports for fifteen years.

While on the subject of football there are a few notes we must put down.

Ralph Gilroy, thanks to his wonderful exhibition of handling the forward pass and open field running, which has resulted in the touchdown that beat Harvard at Princeton, has won his honor medal.

Gilroy's name goes down in the annals of Princeton football heroes along with those of Artie Poe, Lamar, De Witt, Sam White, Tibbott, Ames and Hobey Baker, whose memory will live as long as football is played at Old Nassau.

Gilroy made a run of fully sixty yards, statements to the contrary notwithstanding. It was a long run and a game one. And Gilroy will tell the world that those last twenty strides called for the greatest effort he ever put forth on a football field. If you've ever played football you'll appreciate what a leaden foot is.

Charley Brickley's love for the game has lured him back to the gridiron. He is playing professional football now and then with "Brinkley's Giants," and despite the fact that he weighs more than he once did and is carrying the added weight of several years, his playing is still brilliant and his drop-kicking beautiful to see.

A long step toward making football an even bigger and better game—hard as it is to improve upon now—has been taken by Princeton and Chicago. Next fall the Tigers will play on the Midway. It is to be a home-and-home series between the Maroon and the Tiger. More power to this intersectional stuff.

Harry Greb and Charley Weinert had it out the other night in the Garden. Greb came off with Weinert's scalp, but in victory he failed to impress ringside spectators as a candidate for a bout with Jack Dempsey.

The Pittsburgher, while he showed himself a willing and rather capable battler, did not display his vaunted punching ability, for he hit Weinert with everything he had. Greb used a style similar to that of Georges Carpentier, cocking his right arm. But that was all. He didn't have a Carpentier wallop behind it.

Dempsey, if he had to, could have disposed of both Greb and Weinert in the same ring without over-exerting himself.

Time was when members of the Big Three frowned on the promotion idea as a means of enriching the coffers of their athletic associations, aside from the usual big games on their schedules. Not so now. Yale took the Army to New Haven and played to 75,000 spectators at $2 per. Bad business for Yale, wot?

SPORTS CHATTER
By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Last season when the University of California football team was going great guns, bowling over all opponents by scores in some instances reaching more than one hundred points, someone in the newspaper craft with a penchant for adjectives wrote that it was "the wonder team of the age." That "wonder team" term stuck, and since then California adherents have referred to the team as a "wonder team."

Now comes Coach Andy Smith with his personal protest that such a term should hang to his team. There is no question that California has a great team, but Smith is having a hard time in trying to convince his men that they are not the "wonder team" some people say they are.

Is the hammer throw to be put back on the Pacific Coast Conference program next season?

All over the country collegiate associations have taken a rap at the hammer event and there are few meets now which includes it among colleges. On this coast it was eliminated a couple of years ago though neither Stanford or California wanted it left off the program. They were voted down and took their medicine. There is, however, a general revival of interest all over the country in favor of restoring the event. Harvard is opposed to banishing the event among the L. C. four A's and this association still has the event though some colleges want it eliminated.

Others, however, are rallying to the standard of Harvard and it looks as though there will be a big argument if the elimination of the event is again proposed. In the meantime certain of the Pacific coast colleges are endeavoring to have the event restored on the Coast Conference program.

There are more genuine honest to goodness athletic contests held throughout the country than the public ever dreams of. "Sport for all" is becoming a popular fact in colleges all over the country and healthy sports of all kinds give active recreation and competition to hundreds of thousands of youths who are never heard of through the daily sports pages.

On this coast all the big colleges hold these events. All the fraternity houses have their own specific teams in all sports. The boarding houses, the various classes and other organizations enter wholeheartedly into this "sports for sports' sake" competitive plan. At the University of California it is conservative to say at least eight thousand students participate actively in some sport or other and a number of them go in for several sports. The University of Washington has another large array of such competitors and is just now busy arranging a cross-country tournament in which probably thirty teams will participate.

The WORLD OVER
By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—In a previous article I already have given credit to western football teams for having contributed to the development of the forward pass to a greater extent than the east. I am also inclined to the belief that there is a greater versatility in the west in the matter of the regular line plays.

To one who watches the play of the eastern teams it must become at once apparent that more time and greater stress is placed on the development of plays off tackle than any other mode of offense. Time after time when it would seem good policy to try the encirclement of a wing, the play continues to stick to the attack on the tackle which appears to be almost a fetish. Runs around the end are, of course, quite as likely to lose ground as to gain it, but in the event of an advance it is likely to be a substantial gain in territory.

Pacific coast college teams, in this respect, play a more varied game and are prone to make a more frequent use of the runs around the ends. The University of California team while it masses some of its most formidable plays on the tackle positions, nevertheless has developed a splendid interference for its end plays which it uses with marked success.

Both the east and the west are spending much time on the matter of protecting the runner. The linemen who now are being pulled into these offensive plays as a rampart to the man with the ball often involve intricacies which are puzzling to even the men who are acting as officials in the game. This phase of the game is next to the development of the aerial attack, receiving the greatest share of the coach's time and attention.

In fact, with new plays involving the pulling out of the linemen, which are new to officials and are likely to be misinterpreted by them, several eastern captains have, confidentially, before the game, explained the play they intend to spring on the opposing team so that the officials would know just what to expect and he could determine beforehand if it was allowable. Naturally, the official was given the play in strict confidence, merely for his own information and guidance.

Pacific coast teams which are making a frequent use of their tackles in covering the man with the ball are doing so with just as much effectiveness as the east and the measure of success which would attend one as against the other would practically resolve itself into a question as to which team had been given the greatest amount of drilling in order to develop its team play. The accuracy of the pass and the ability to hang on to the ball are fundamentals of the game which never can be eliminated from the reckoning in the consideration of any play.

Thus we find that in the matter of versatility both in the aerial and line offense, the Pacific coast teams not only hold their own with the best of the eastern aggregations, but have outstripped the latter along certain lines.

MAYOR ROBINSON TO OPEN HORSESHOE TOURNAMENT HERE

City's Chief Executive to Pitch First Iron; Local Entries After Honors

The tournament of the State Horseshoe Pitchers' Association will open promptly at 10 o'clock next Friday morning with an address of welcome by Mayor Spencer Robinson, after which he will pitch the first shoe and the tournament will be on, says W. H. Nicoles, 322 East Fairview avenue, secretary of the Glendale Horseshoe Club.

The rules governing the tournament will be read by George F. Krimball of Long Beach, secretary of the state association, and a resume of the history of the game of horseshoes will be given by Secretary W. H. Nicoles.

Entries for Glendale in the tournament are Raymond Bruce, C. F. Neitert, A. D. Schindler, J. L. Denney, D. D. Kenyon, John Langford, George T. Paine and Vernon Putnam.

Cups To Be Awarded
Much confidence is being placed in Mr. Bruce, says Secretary Nicoles, to win several honors in the tournament for Glendale.

The four silver cups to be awarded to the winners in the tournament are now on display at the Dadds' Jewelry Store, 104 East Broadway.

Besides these there will be several medals and cash prizes for the winners, states Secretary Nicoles, and it is expected the competition will be keen.

This City Produces Candy, It Positively Does, Visitor States

Glendale produces the "candy," figuratively and literally, according to a letter received by James M. Rhodes, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, from P. J. Hayselden of the Cantfield-Hayselden company, Los Angeles, who speaks a word for the candy manufactured by C. A. Kaighan, and for Glendale as a home city. The letter reads as follows:

"My Dear Mr. Rhodes:—A few days ago I was in your city and while there I purchased a box of candy which I afterwards learned is manufactured in your city by Mr. Kaighan, and I want to say for Glendale that this factory produces about as fine a candy as our family has had the pleasure of eating, and while you have many other splendid advantages over there you surely can produce the 'candy,' figuratively as well as literally. Whoever these people are, they are worth giving a boost as their candy is delicious as well as fresh, and they are entitled to the local southern California trade.

"Within a very short time now I hope to be living in Glendale, for if you live any place else you are only 'camping out.' With regards, I remain,

"Yours sincerely,
"P. J. HAYSELDEN,
"Cantfield-Hayselden Company."

Wonder Apples From Yucaipa Valley Sent to Local C. of C.

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce has received a large box of Yucaipa apples from C. H. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce at Yucaipa. The apples are of the Delicious and Roman Beauty varieties and are placed on display in the Chamber of Commerce room.

"However, I don't expect the display to last long," said Secretary Rhodes. "The apples grown in Yucaipa valley are of a superior quality, and the box received here is a good representation of that fruit-growing valley. Besides apples, there are many pears, cherries and peaches grown in Yucaipa valley."

DEMOCRATS BLOCK BALLOT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Democratic senators again refused to agree on fixing the time for a final vote on the Ford-Newberry election contest, following an afternoon of debate. Later senators predicted a vote would not finally be reached until the middle of January. In an executive session which had been called to consider a number of presidential nominations, the Newberry case was called up by Republican leaders in an unsuccessful effort to bring about an agreement. Senator Pomerene, Democrat, of Ohio, made a vigorous denunciation of Newberry's campaign methods.

PROPOSALS UNQUESTIONED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—The constitutionality of the United States agreeing in concert with other powers to "scrap" half of its navy and enter into a ten-year naval holiday has not been questioned, it was stated officially at the White House. Any agreement reached by the present conference along this line would be in the same class, it was stated, as the agreement between Canada and the United States for a peaceful patrol of the Great Lakes and the maintenance of no armed battleships between the two borders.

SIGNS PEACE WITH AUSTRIA

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—President Harding has signed a proclamation of peace with Austria, it was announced at the White House. The proclamation has not yet been issued but it follows the general lines of the German peace proclamation issued earlier in the week.

MANY BLESSINGS TO GIVE THANKS FOR, STATES PASTOR

Rev. Harley G. Preston Says Debt of Gratitude Can Never Be Fully Paid

"If we arose at 4 o'clock Thanksgiving day and spent the day in giving thanks we could not begin to cover all our blessings for the one year passed let alone the accumulated blessings and mercies of our lives," declared the Rev. Harley G. Preston yesterday morning at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church.

"It is necessary, if we are to pay these debts of gratitude to make it a part of our daily lives. As we are exhorted to 'pray without ceasing' by living in constant communication with God so a spirit of gratitude should pervade our whole life. Every Christian assembly should be joyous with praise and every prayer should be mingled with thanksgiving.

"A true prayer has in it an element of thanksgiving. We would get a hundred times more from the Lord, if we were more thankful.

Bread for Grumblers
"During the last Christmas season someone at the dead letter office counted the thousands of letters received from children for Santa Claus. He found only one which expressed thanks.

"A man got up in a meeting once and said that he had lived on Grumble street for a long time, but finally he moved on Thanksgiving street. We all dread those who are always grumbling. There is more said in the Bible about praise than prayer.

"Dr. Franklin said that, in a time of great despondency among the first settlers of New England, it was proposed in one of their public assemblies to call a fast. But an old farmer with a lot of common sense said, 'We are provoking heaven with our complaints. Let us review our mercies and blessings' and he proceeded to show that they had much to be thankful for and moved that they should appoint a day of thanksgiving. This was accordingly done, and the custom has followed ever since.

Joyous With Praise
"Every Christian assembly should be joyous with praise and every prayer should be mingled with thanksgiving. There are times when this is difficult, especially in times of trouble and in moods of spiritual depression, but there would be more joy and praise and thanksgiving if we thought less of our own feelings and more of the gifts and deeds of God's goodness.

"Plato, looking through the dim spectacles of nature, gave thanks unto God for three things: First, that God created him a man and not a beast; second, that he was born a Grecian and not a barbarian; third, not only a Grecian but a philosopher also. But Christians, better bred and taught, thank God: First, that he created them after his own image; second, that he has called them from the sinful ways of the world and made them Christians; and third, that among those who bear the name of Christ he has made them faithful like a few quick sighted men among a company of spiritually blind ones."

Unique Building of Realty Firm Given Picture in Magazine

The office building of the Kelly & Van Arsdol Realty company, 106 West Colorado street, built on lines representing the type of house to be found on the Belgian-Holland frontier, has attracted the notice of someone on the staff of the The Popular Mechanics and the December issue of that magazine has a picture of the office and a lengthy description.

W. B. Kelly, who suggested the design for the office, says that the unique architecture of the building has been a great advertising feature for the firm.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING HERE

Glendale folk have started their Christmas shopping already, according to J. F. Fisher, proprietor of the variety store at 212 East Broadway. He says some thoughtful parents have been in recently to make deposits on dolls and toys. The store's holiday stock is now on display and Mr. Fisher is looking for a big business.

CLAIM NAVAL PLAN MAY HELP SOLVE UNEMPLOYMENT

Scrapping of Ships Would Furnish More Jobs, Is Declared by Experts

BY MARIE DEMONTALVO
Written for International News Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Far from feeling any anxiety lest the adoption of Secretary Hughes' program for curtailment of shipbuilding should result in a serious unemployment situation, men high in naval circles expressed the opinion that the direct effects of this plan might be to afford more jobs instead of less for a considerable period.

While it is obvious that relief from the enormous burden of taxation cannot be instantaneously felt on the adoption of this great national economy and that it is inevitable that some 10,000 to 14,000 men now engaged in shipbuilding will be thrown out of work at once, it is pointed out that the program calls for the scrapping of more ships than are under construction now.

Would Need More Workers
This means that not only will the present workers of construction be re-engaged at once for scrapping, but more workers will be required.

This will relieve the unemployment situation instead of aggravating it, and it is hoped that by the time the work of scrapping ships is finished, the enormous saving to the United States in cutting down expenses of the navy, will have brought about a prosperity that must mean more jobs and a lower cost of living to all wage earners.

CHARGES OF KIDNAPING

NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 21.—Justice of the Peace Will Jacks of Douglas, Ariz., and Paul Eidson of Beeville, Tex., main witnesses of the state in the trial of W. H. Smith, former city clerk of Nogales, being tried on a charge of having embezzled $16,000, are alleged to have been kidnaped in Nogales, Sonora, across the line from here. Jacks was located and returned across the line by the Mexican consul. He is in a serious condition as a result of drugs administered. Eidson is said to be under guard of four Mexicans, but will be returned to the United States. Mexican Consul Terrazas is assisting American officials in an investigation.

BIG BUSINESS FOR CHRISTMAS SEEN BY NEW YORKER

Manager of Large Department Store Says Santa's Pack
Will Be Well Filled

By LEO T. HEATLEY
Written for International News Service
NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Santa's pack will be well filled this Christmas, despite present unemployment and business depression, according to managers of the big department stores here. This optimistic prediction is the result of a careful watch of buying tendencies and a comparison with sales of other years.

The gradual but certain upward swing of the business cycle is clearly evidenced in the constant increase in the number of daily purchases by the public—an evidence that both men and women are profiting by the merchants' advice to do their Christmas shopping early.

A few short months ago merchants were complaining that the public was buying strictly in accordance with its immediate needs and confining purchases to necessities. Luxuries became a drug on the market and could hardly be sold at any price. Now, however, these same merchants are the first to tell the world that good times are returning.

Big Sales Made Now
With the beginning of the cold weather came a strong demand for clothing, underwear, furs and shoes. Canned food, coal, meats and rugs were also in heavy demand. Heating appliances, particularly electrical devices, find a ready sale, whereas there has been a very small turnover of these products during the last months.

Department stores, gauging their Christmas sales by present indications, have begun to hire additional clerks, to replenish their stocks in anticipation of the holiday business, which, they believe, will surpass that of any pre-war years. This has contributed toward relief of the unemployment situation. Increased business in many lines has provided work for thousands who have been walking the streets for months. As these workers are enabled to draw their salaries again they become potential buyers, thus aiding the universal movement toward rehabilitation of business.

War Time Business
"During the war our sales reached tremendous heights," said the manager of one of New York's largest and most widely known department stores. "We hired hundreds of additional clerks to take care of this increased business. When the period of depression set in we were forced to let a great part of our sales force go in order to adjust our store to the general scheme of retrenchment. Business has unquestionably been very bad for some time. But we are all looking forward to big holiday season sales, and if we can take present sales as a criterion I believe we will find prosperity ushered in on a velvet cushion about the first of December. Today we are selling articles that two months ago were becoming dusty on our shelves. We are actually turning over our stocks, which seemed impossible in June. We have already hired a number of extra sales people, and we have a list from which we will take on more and more as business improves. We are not taking on a big force out of any motive of altruism; we are taking on additional sales people because of the requirements of our increased business."

Says Workmen to Blame
"We hear many people blaming the unemployment situation on the merchants of the country. As a matter of fact, the workmen themselves are really to blame. During the war, while they were getting the high wages, they neglected to provide against a rainy day. We were forced to pay salaries out of all proportion to the value of services rendered, and then when we had to cut our force and, in some instances, reduce salaries, we were charged with niggardliness and with a lack of interest in the welfare of the workers. But I think all this is over now. The holiday business will be large, and this will give new impetus to the better business movement already under way."

TELLS STORIES OF PARTIES

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Wine and women parties were frequent occurrences in the home of Arthur C. Burch in Evanston during the absence of his parents, according to a deposition made by Ralph D. Taylor, a neighbor of Burch's in Evanston. Burch will shortly be tried in Los Angeles for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, a young broker. Taylor testified that when he called at the Burch home one morning Burch was still under the effect of liquor and that he "had to carry breakfast over to him."

Neither Hindoos nor Japanese will ever willingly sleep with their heads to the north.

American Legion hall at 610 East Broadway with Mrs. Cora Dunn presiding.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs.
A. W. Tower of 214 Park street entertained for dinner Charles Weeks of Palo Alto. Mr. Weeks owns a large chicken ranch at that place.
He and Mr. Tower have been friends for some time, having attended
Depauw university at Greencastle,
Ind., together.

F. S. Johnston, head of the Reliable Garment manufacturing company of Chicago, is spending a few days visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baird, 637 North Orange street. While Mr. Johnston has an extensive business in Chicago, yet he is planning to move to Glendale. "I always did think southern California
a wonderful place," he says, "but I think Glendale most wonderful of all."

A very delightful evening was spent on Thursday, November 17, at the home of Mrs. Nanno Woods and family, 122 West Milford street.
Readings by the hostess, selections
on the phonograph, and cards were enjoyed by the guests. Prizes in leen Woods.

$200 Is Realized by St. Mark's Guild in Saturday's Bazaar

The bazaar held by the St. Mark's Guild Saturday at the nursery park
of Downing & Cox, 118 South Brand boulevard, was a success in every way. The goods were placed on display from 10:30 in the morning until 6:30 in the evening. It had been the intention of the ladies in charge
to conduct the sale until later in the evening, but the committee reports that the ability of the salesladies and the value of the goods combined left nothing unsold at the closing hour.

The committee reports that when all bills are paid about $200 will be realized from the bazaar. The grounds decorated by the flowers and shrubbery of Downing & Cox made a beautiful background for the event,
and many pleasing comments were made by the large number that called during the day.

The cooked food table was in charge of Mrs. Campbell, assisted by Mrs. Cate. Home-made candy was sold by Mrs. Parker, assisted by Mrs.
Correy. The display of fancy goods was under the supervision of Mrs.
England, assisted by Mrs. Card.
Children's and miscellaneous articles were sold by Mrs. T. Baker, assisted by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Murphy.
Mrs. Bassett had charge of the sale of bags and rugs. The department having on display house dresses and aprons was conducted by Mrs. Mc-Comber. The dainty tea table which was well patronized was in charge of Mrs. Frabar, assisted by Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Gallor.

Deaths and Funerals

JOHN BUTLER

John Butler, who was injured by an automobile June 2, died suddenly at 4:30 o'clock this morning, Monday, November 21, 1921, at his home, 516 West Milford street, of heart failure.

Mr. Butler was a veteran of the G.
A. R. and was born 74 years ago in Ohio. He had resided in Glendale for the past nine years.

Mrs. Lauretta Butler survives her husband. A son, Ernest Butler, resided with them. Relatives in Tipton, Missouri, and in Washington
have been advised of the death.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by L. G. Scovern later.

Births

Mrs. Thomas Hilburn, 1735 South Burlington street, Los Angeles, is the mother of a girl born yesterday, Sunday, November 20, 1921, at the Glendale Sanitarium Hospital.

A daughter was born yesterday,
Sunday, November 20, 1921, at the Glendale Sanitarium Hospital to Mrs.
R. S. Durham of Santa Monica.

TO BUILD STORE BUILDING

The Roy L. Kent company, 130
South Brand boulevard, has completed plans and will start construction at once on a one-story brick store building in the Atwater tract
for Mrs. Pauline Ruprecht. The building with a sixty-foot frontage,
will consist of three store rooms with all modern equipment, costing approximately $8,000, states Mr. Kent.

The total American casualties in the World war were 302,612, with deaths numbering 77,118.

JAMES KIRKWOOD'S DIFFICULT DUAL ROLE PRAISED

Unusual Picture Is Shown on
T. D. & L. Screen; Lionel
Barrymore on Tuesday

James Kirkwood, featured in George Melford's new Paramount
production, "The Great Impersonation," which is to be shown at the T. D. & L. theatre for the last time today, has one of the most difficult dual roles ever portrayed on the screen.

The skill required in the portrayal of this role will be understood when one considers the fact that Mr. Kirkwood must enact two racial characters with entirely different characteristics—one a German, the other an Englishman.

Lionel Barrymore Coming
Lionel Barrymore who is starred in "Jim the Penman," which will be the attraction at the T. D. & L.
theatre Tuesday, enacts a role in this photoplay entirely different from any he has ever done for the screen.
The production is an up-to-date
Americanized version of a melodrama that has been popular on the English and American stage for many years.

Mr. Barrymore has the role of a bank cashier who has a remarkable ability for imitating signatures. The first time he uses this talent dishonestly is to save the president of the bank, who is also the father of the girl the cashier loves, from disgrace.

The forgery is discovered and he barters his services to a ring of international criminals for a period of twenty years. The climax comes when the criminals insist on him
committing a forgery which will ruin
the young man to whom his daughter is engaged.

Two City Officials Placed on Board of Verdugo Water Works

The Verdugo Canyon Water company has selected Councilman
Dwight W. Stephenson and City Manager W. H. Reeves to succeed
former City Manager T. W. Watson and former City Engineer Harry Lynch upon the board. Mr. Reeves stated this morning that the change
had no personal significance whatever and was merely the result of a new administration taking office.

The city is heavily interested in the company and, it is stated, there is some talk of the municipality taking over the property entirely. Plans for providing increased water service in the Verdugo canyon are now being considered by the city council.

Many Invitations to Alumni Annual Thanksgiving Ball

Frank Balthis, who is chairman of the dance committee of the Glendale
high school alumni association, has announced that several hundred invitations have been sent to members of the organization regarding the Thanksgiving ball and reunion, which is to be given in the girls' gymnasium
of the high school on Wednesday evening. Plans are being made to take care of a record crowd, as more than a hundred couples are expected to be present.

The dance will be conducted for both the present and the past students of the local institution, each one of whom is permitted to be accompanied by one outside friend. The grand march will start promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Mildred Singleton Has Birthday Party on Saturday Night

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Singleton of 318 West Wilson avenue entertained with a dinner party at their home Saturday night in celebration of the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Miss Mildred Singleton.

The guests included Miss Mary Newcomb, Miss Marie Stevens and Miss Mary Higley, chums of Miss Singleton at the University of California, Southern branch, where she is a student, and Miss Lela Whitehead of Glendale and Mr. and Mrs.
C. R. Petersen of Hollywood.

Mrs. F. Salmacia Will Be Hostess, Card Party, Dance

Mrs. Frank Salmacia of 361 West
California avenue will be hostess on Tuesday afternoon and night at a card party and dance to be given at the Odd Fellows hall, for the benefit of the Holy Family Catholic church. Mrs. Salmacia will be assisted by women of the parish.
Prizes will be given for the highest and lowest score.

L. W. GOSSMAN IS HOST

L. W. Gossman of Sycamore Canyon Road entertained a number of Los Angeles and Glendale friends at his home during the past week-end.
The affair was given as a reunion and get-together meeting of several of the members of the 1920 graduating class of the Glendale high school.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Snowstorms in Northwest
Gas Blows Up Theories
Glendale's Accessibility
"Ringers" to be Accredited

By Gil A. Cowan

SNOWSTORMS sweep the northwest.

Top o' the morning to you.
How placid Southern Californians
feel to live here in the glorious sunshine and have their bad colds and the grip and other winter maladies
without the inconvenience of being caged in a radiator room like a roaring lion.

Really, one shivers and wants to climb into a warm and comfortable bed when he or she reads of many cities held in grip of blizzards. Just think of the 20 below zero weather
they are having in Havre, Mont.

Then thank the lucky stars that the sun shines and the balmy breezes blow from over tropical waters to warm the southland where we live.

Recently there has been a big
campaign for the sale of gas stoves.

Good idea that people keep warm.
Gas, most economical fuel that it is, seems to come to its own rescue
every time some jingoist jumps up and says Southern California's supply will be exhausted in fifty years or so.

Within the next few minutes after such a statement is given gullible
credence, in comes another "gasser"
at the beach and blows up the theory
that there isn't any more gas.

Carefully conserved the gas to be found in this vicinity should last for years to come—many more years
than estimated, because it behooves wise prophets to play safe, in the parlance of baseball.

Alhambra has its hope of holding its head high in upbuilding Southern California.

Latest news from that budding
municipality is a five story hotel, a half million power supply plant and a few business blocks.

Alhambra ought to be good for at least that much in view of what Glendale and Burbank have done.
Ten years ago they were using the main street of Burbank as a "western" set for the movies. Today the movies would get "all upset" if they tried it.

But Glendale has what no other
suburb boasts and that is accessibility. With three entrances into Los Angeles by highway and three by railroad, the possibilities for development seem unlimited.

Someday the Southern Pacific and Salt Lake lines will be rushing commuters into Los Angeles like the Burlington, Northwestern or Illinois
Central do for Chicago.

Glendale this week is going to be host to one of the most unusual gatherings in the history of sporting events.

The California State Horse Shoe
Pitchers' tournament will be held here November 25 and 26.

More interest will be evinced by those present in "ringers" than a home run in an average baseball game. And a ringer in shoe pitching is nothing like a ringer in horse racing.

BUYING MANY MACHINES

REGINA, Sask.—Figures published by the provincial government
show that the number of automobiles owned in Saskatchewan in 1920 was 60,325, as compared with 55,010 in 1919 and 46,880 in 1918. This is a remarkable showing when it is considered that in 1903 the total number of motor vehicles of all descriptions in the province was only seventy-four. This rapid increase in the number of automobiles is attributed to the rapid settlement of the province and the prosperity achieved by the settlers in farm homes. In this country, where farms are often paid
for by a single crop, more than half the automobiles are owned by farmers.

Truth is a mighty instrument,
whatsoever hand may wield it.

OFFERS TIPS FROM MARS

COLUMBUS, O.—That he is receiving dream messages from Mars which are superior to all forms of government is the claim made by Professor Charles V. Barton, Santa Cruz, Calif., on a printed postcard
he mailed to City Clerk Moore here.
Professor Barton informed Clerk
Moore that he is able, also, to settle all problems of politics, tariff and graft, as well as all labor troubles.
An interesting portion of the communication was the assertion that,
for this cure-all information the professor made a charge of only twenty cents to cover the cost of mailing and preparing two letters.

The United States is now making
for its laboratories 800 rare chemicals which were formerly imported entirely from Germany.

TUESDAY CLUB HEADS SAYS SALVATION ARMY HELPFUL

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson Declares Cause Worthy; Fred Giles Tells of Experiences

"The Salvation Army has come to us with an appeal for assistance in the continuation of its grand and noble work," declared Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, recently.

"Since we have been helping others in far off lands it is no more than right that we should help those in need in our own beautiful California. The Army, though a world-wide organization, will use this money in helping the poor, sick and needy in our own state.

"Although there is as yet no Army corps in Glendale, it is still prepared to help in its capacity every needy person in this city. The Army has its rescue homes, its orphan home, its industrial home, its summer camp at Redondo Beach for poor women and children and its relief department are never closed to us.

"It was easy to give while the bands were playing and the flags flying but it falls to the lot of the far seeing to give in the cold gray dawn of the aftermath of war.

Popularity is Surprize

"The popularity that has come to the Salvation Army as the result of the war was entirely unanticipated and unexpected. The most surprised people of all were the Salvation Army people themselves. They did not go into war work to get publicity. I can vouch for that because I was in France part of the time myself."

The speaker was Fred Giles, envoy of the Salvation Army in charge of the drive for funds from the San Fernando valley now in progress and who has headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building, Los Angeles.

Formerly a resident of Australia, Mr. Giles was among the first to reach the battlefields of France. In the early part of 1915 he sustained a fractured foot and was incapacitated for further service at the front. He was sent on recruiting duty to Lancashire, England, and to Ireland. Later he came to Canada and entered munitions work. For the past two years he has lived in southern California.

Has Traveled Over World

"I have traveled over the whole world, and once was on a world cycle tour," stated Mr. Giles. "I have seen the Salvation Army operating in some forty-eight countries. The Salvation Army is working all over the world in seventy-two countries and is universally approved by public authorities in all of these countries.

"The one feature that impresses me more than anything is the universal economic self-sacrifice of the workers in the Salvation Army. I think it would be safe to say without hurting any other organization that there is no organization which is doing such effective social work on such a little scale."

The effectiveness and economy stand together. The economy is due to the fact that the Salvation Army workers are inspired by the humanitarianism of service and have devoted themselves to this work at very small remuneration. Only the officials get any pay. The hundreds of bandmen, who are expected to assist very readily when needed, receive no compensation and neither do any of our lay workers. It is really only the men who are in charge of districts or of institutions, and who are giving their entire time to the work, who receive any pay. This is very small.

Pays Small Salaries

"It is a policy with the Salvation Army to pay small salaries and is not due to economy. It is imperative that workers should be in the organization for the good they can do and not for what they can get out of it. People are not going to work for small sums unless they have their heart in the work. If you get a person working with real heart interest, he is going to do effective work. It will be more effective than the work of a person who is merely in the organization for the grand adventure."

The Salvation Army is now conducting a campaign in Glendale for the collection of a fund of $2500 for next year's work at institutions which serve the interests of this community. According to Mr. Giles, he is meeting very generous response here. He has established headquarters at the First National Bank and at the Brand boulevard branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank. He would like to hear from any women who would like to help in a house to house canvass at once.

More Car Lines for City; Here's J. M. Ross' View

Editor The Evening News: Glendale is distressingly in need of more local car lines and we would suggest the following added improvement which will greatly facilitate travel and be an economic advantage to the street car companies:

If the Burbank line should be routed south on Central avenue and Pacific avenue to Colorado street, and then north on Brand boulevard it would, to a large degree, supply a needed service for a part of the western section of the city.

This would at once create a belt line service for the district between Colorado street, the bridge, Brand boulevard and Pacific avenue. Then if traffic arrangements could be entered into between the two car lines by which the Eagle Rock cars would run through to Burbank and vice versa, this would be another added car service. By this arrangement let the Eagle Rock cars run down Brand boulevard, west on Colorado street and north on Pacific avenue to the Burbank lines.

Final Ballots for Directors' Election for C. of C. Now Out

Final ballots are being received today by members of the Chamber of Commerce for the election of six directors. They are to be voted on and returned not later than 5 p. m. on Tuesday, November 29, the polls to be open at 140 South Brand boulevard in the Citizens building where headquarters of the chamber will be moved to soon.

Henry Furinton, student secretary, will be in charge of the ballot box there from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. except Thursday, November 24, Thanksgiving day, and Sunday, November 27. Following are the candidates for the six positions:

D. L. Gregg, Roy L. Kent, Dan Campbell, C. D. Lusby, Peter L. Perry, Owen Emery, J. A. Newton, A. R. Eastman, S. C. Packer, C. W. Ingledue, Mabel L. Tight and C. E. Kimlin.

Assistant Secretary E. F. Sanders, who is in charge of membership, says there are a few who would be enabled to vote if their dues were paid.

D. J. Hanna Comes Here, Gets Health and Joins C. of C.

D. J. Hanna, 201 West Lexington drive, who was lieutenant governor of Kansas under the administration of Governor Hoch, and who came here to regain his health, is one of the new and enthusiastic members of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. After arriving, Mr. Hanna was won over to the climate of Glendale, and has decided to reside here permanently.

Mr. Hanna, together with the Edwards & Wilkey company, Los Angeles, recently purchased the C. W. Dudley property at the northeast corner of West Broadway and Central avenue, and the John G. Huntley property at 221 West Broadway and will soon start building a business block, comprising six stores facing on Broadway.

Casts of Plays by Tuesday Club Given Informal Reception

A reception was given the casts of the three one-act plays presented by the Drama Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club after the Glendale Theatre performance Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Roger Bentley, 715 North Central avenue. The hostesses were Mrs. Roy L. Kent, Mrs. W. L. Andrews, Mrs. N. C. Cable, Mrs. Colin Cable, Mrs. Ray Galvin and Mrs. Bentley.

Delicious refreshments were served, consisting of assorted sandwiches, salad, pickles, coffee and home-made cakes. Congratulations, of course, were in order and a delightful time was had by all. Those present included Dr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Sherman, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Bachmann, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Galvin, Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Kent and son Wesley, Mr. and Mrs. Malvin Barker, and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Findlay. Booth and Mrs. C. C. Ocker, Paul Carson, Mrs. Charles A. Parker and the Misses Doris Packer, Shirley Chase and Winifred Parker.

F. A. Clarke Opens New Store; Invites Public Inspection

The Glendale Evening News is in receipt of the following self-explanatory announcement:

"F. A. Clarke takes great pleasure in announcing the opening of a new store of the F. A. Clarke Company Good Housekeeping Shops, Inc., at 713 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

"This store is opened for the greater convenience of southern California women in the very heart of the theatre and shopping district. As a valued patron and personal friend we extend a special invitation to you to inspect this most perfectly appointed electric household appliance store in the west."

In addition to being a resident of Glendale, Mr. Clarke operates one of his stores here at 310 East Broadway.

CITY COUNCIL WILL MEET

A special session of the city council will be held tonight to approve the plat of the Kipper tract recently put on the market by Charles B. Guthrie. This consists of about a thousand feet south of Kenneth Road, and west of Pacific avenue. A street, which runs through the length of the strip, has been dedicated to the city.

STOLEN FROM HIS AUTO

T. C. Fuller, 356 Patterson avenue, had a flashlight and battery box stolen from his auto while it was parked last night in front of the Presbyterian church.

Sticky is practically a treeless country.

Red Cross Praised for Europe Relief

Mrs. Eugene Murman, 206 North Central avenue, has just received letters from Riga, Latvia and from Estonia telling her how grateful the people there are for the help of the American Red Cross. They write that if it had not been for American flour many, many thousands would have died from hunger.

"Never can we forget what the Americans have done for us," says the letter, "and the feeling toward them is exceedingly friendly and grateful in our poor stricken country. People who had everything are standing now in the bread line."

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Murman are both from Russia. They are now American citizens and proud of it.

Portrayal of Perfect Man Given Dynamos

Sunday, November 20 the Dynamos club of the Presbyterian church was swayed by a message from Mrs. Eaton of Tennessee, a noted lecturer on ethics. She portrayed a perfect man and the high standard to which men must lift themselves that they may be of service to the world in need. More messages of this kind will be given in the future and young men are urged to join this organization for "God and Man."

The thought that conquers the world is not contemplative but active.

PLANE TO CARRY 3 TONS
LONDON—The first pantechicon
of the skies is shortly to be launched.
Designed solely for the purpose of freight carrying, it has an especially spacious fuselage cabin, and it will be capable of carrying nearly three tons of freight at a cost of less than forty-eight cents a mile.
Appropriately enough the machine is to be called the Tramp and is a three-decker, fitted with four engines, developing a total of 960 horsepower. The machine will be slow in relation to the speed which aircraft usually attain.

NO LEAD IN LEAD PENCIL
The word pencil originally meant
a small, fine brush, such as artists
still use under the same name, but it now chiefly denotes the black-
lead wood-cased pencil and its varieties. Lead pencil is a misnomer, because there is no lead about it.
The case is wood or paper, and the substance that makes the mark is graphite, also called plumbago, from the Latin word plumbum, lead. This is the only connection the substance
had with lead, because it is a form
of carbon, and it's one of the softest
minerals known.

PROF. SHEPARD OF POMONA TALKS IN LOCAL CHURCH

Secret of Happiness Is to Concentrate on Just One Thing, Says Speaker

Prof. Clyde Sheldon Shepard delivered the morning sermon yesterday at the Congregational church. He is now a member of the faculty at Pomona college and formerly occupied the pulpit here from which he spoke. Rev. C. M. Calderwood introducing him declared that he had prepared the congregation so well
that the past year had been most pleasant.

"Concentration on one thing at one time spells success; it also spells happiness," declared Prof. Shepard.
"The secret of such attention is an adequate motive. Shoot a life
through with an impelling purpose
and you need not ask the gods to do more for it. The all-absorbed man, possessed of a worthy passion, laughs
at all the storms that blow. Baring
his breast to the barbs of all enemies,
unmindful of carnage about him, caring not for danger and obstacles in front, he fights his way on, the joy
of struggle in his blood, contentment
in the steel gleam of his eyes, the reward of victory already his own."

Instills Impulses

"So important is this mainpring
to activity that the Creator has instilled deep in the human breast
those impulses most necessary for the advancement of civilization.
Some of these we hold in common with the animal world. Strangely enough, men yield themselves to this lower kingdom, interpreting life, forsooth, in terms of beasts and not of men. Your chief concern with these instincts is to see that they do not run away with things that are above them."

"What a beautiful thing is the flowering of the instinct of self-preservation when it shows in the unending struggle of a courageous man! There is something Godlike
in the fight of a man against odds."

Higher Advancement

"It is for the possibility of our higher advancement that all the toilings of the centuries have been. This

Gene Debs Is Popular With Prison's Inmates

ATLANTA, Ga.—While it has been said prison life has been hard on Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader of America, now in the United States
penitentiary here, a good look at Mr.
Debs shows that no hardships are evidenced upon his genial brow.

Watching what he believes, his swiftly receding days of confinement pass by, Mr. Debs is still philosophical.

When visited here by a representative of the International News Service
his broad smile spread over his kindly face, and when asked how he liked the place he said it was far the best prison he had ever seen.

"You know I have been in a great many prisons over the country," he said with a smile, and hastened to add, "though not as an inmate. I have visited them, for a good many of my friends have been confined."

"As for myself, it is true that I have been incarcerated in another penitentiary, and also a few jails,
but that was something probably inevitable in my life."

Mr. Debs is a great favorite at the prison. Almost every man is his friend, and he is said to never tire in his efforts to do what he can towards lightening the burdens of fellow inmates.

EGGS GOOD IMITATIONS

A remarkable and inexplicable fact about the cuckoo's eggs is that they very commonly resemble the eggs of the bird in whose nest they are laid.
Of 755 cuckoo eggs in the Berlin Natural History museum, 575 strikingly resemble the eggs of the foster parent
in color and marking.

This is the reason of education:
To impel men by higher motives.
That it has run students through its halls, equipped with the instruments
of civilization and then sent them
out into life purposed by the motives
of the jungle.

"There are some who will measure
your education by the languages you speak or the polish of your society manners or by the money or fame that is yours. But you may have all of these in abundance and be as uneducated as a king of the monkeys
rolling in his wealth of coconuts.
"You are educated, if gratitude,
loyalty and desire to serve guide you
through all the chances of life's tangled maze."

"The secret of happiness revealed
by the songs of the victorious of all

'MAN WHO FORGOT' IS SERMON TOPIC BY REV. EDMONDS

Saddest Things, Says Speaker,
Is One Who Will Not Remember Blessings

A sermon for the Thanksgiving season was given at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning under the title, "The Man Who Forgot."
"The saddest thing in the world is that men of God can forget what has been done for them," declared Rev.
W. E. Edmonds. "It needs that we shall today be shaken out of our forgetfulness of numberless blessings that we have been busy to recall. And then let us go out with uplifted heads and remember."

"First, don't forget the great blessing of health. Authorities tell us that as a regular thing 3,000,000 of our population are sick. The hospitals are always full. Suffering aside, the economic loss through this cause
is counted two billion dollars a year.
Don't fail to thank God for health.
"Closely connected with this is sleep. Do you appreciate that blessing? Think of those who go night
after night without refreshing sleep.
You rush from your good guarded
rest under the angel of the Lord.
Stop to thank Him for it."

May Be Your Turn

Don't forget to thank God for your immunity from all the ravaging diseases. We are told that there are 2,000,000 lepers in the world. Every day 125 people drop dead. Suppose it should be you next, is your house
in order?

"Don't forget to thank God for your sight. There are 100,000 blind in the United States."

"And we ought to be careful to be thankful for our mental soundness. There are 400,000 in our institutions for the mentally afflicted.
The awful pace of our country puts an unbearable strain upon many."

"Give thanks that you have not to suffer poverty. There are 500,000, 000 who lie down tonight without a real bed. In India 60,000,000 will lie down without knowing where breakfast will be found."

"Don't forget to thank God for your spiritual blessings. This body very soon we will be done with and

LAST WORD IN HONESTY

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—Mrs. H.
M. Farrell, sixty-eight, worried over an unpaid bill of $1.50 for forty-nine years. Then she came to this city from her home in Pittsburg to pay the bill contracted when she was a young girl attending school here with the firm of George M. John & Co.
She had an account with the store and left the city owing $1.50, which debt, she said, she could not dismiss from her mind. Mr. John, head of the firm, is still living, though no longer actively connected with the store. She hunted him up at his home and paid the bill.

Your New Dining Room
Furniture
for Thanksgiving

Before the big Thanksgiving dinner comes you want the new dining room furniture for which you have been planning.

From now on is the season of the year to do more entertaining. At Thanksgiving time as well as the Christmas and New Year Holidays your dining room will be the most intimate room in the house. It should be the happiest place on earth —beautiful furnishings will help make it so.

Our showing for the dining room is very comprehensive this season. We are featuring suites in Mahogany, Walnut and Oak—in the different period styles.
The Price Question is of great importance these days. We suggest that you compare before you buy—quality to quality—price to price—we know our prices at this large Glendale furniture store are less than in the city.

PLAN TO EXTEND ISLAND

NEW YORK—T. K. Thompson,
one of the most prominent engineers
in New York, has put forward a plan to extend the Island of Manhattan
six miles down New York bay, adding twelve miles of needed docks.
The proposed extension would be "built up" with huge concrete walls
on either side. Clearance for navigation on both sides would remain
the same as it now is, according to Mr. Thompson. Governor's Island
would be taken in as part of Manhattan under the plan.

The exact origin of the custom of sleeping on a piece of wedding cake is obscure. It has been traced back to the early Britons and is found not only in England, but in almost all European countries.
